Iran to hand over Chabahar port to Indian co for operation in a month: Minister

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 6

IRAN WILL HAND over the strategic Chabahar port to an Indian company within a month as per an interim pact, Iranian Minister of roads and urban development Akhoundi said on Thursday.

Akhoundi is in India to participate Mobility Summit by the Niti Aayog on the occasion of India's government.

"Now, we are ready just to handover the Chabahar port to the Indian company just to complete this interim agreement that already had with Indian part for one and a half month," Akhoundi said here.

The Chabahar port in the Sistan-Baluchistan province in the energy-rich nation's south coast is easily accessible from India's west coast and is increasingly seen as a counter to Pakistan's Gwadar port located at distance around 80 km from Chabahar.

Akhoundi after a meeting with his Indian counterpart, road transport and highway Minister Nitin Gadkari, said: "We have moved one step forward... We should introduce a banking channel to India, which we already had and fortunately has been formally accepted by the Indian side."

He said the India has also introduced a new shipping channel, which has been approved by the central bank.

"Indian side had investment in Chabahar port and we are moving towards utilisation of the Chabahar port," Akhoundi said, adding the handing over of the port should be completed within one month. We have done everything for this."

The first phase of the Chabahar port was inaugurated in December 2017 by Iranian President Hassan Rouhani, opening a new shipping route connecting Iran, India and Afghanistan, bypassing Pakistan.

The Chabahar port is being considered a gateway to golden opportunities for trade between India, Iran and Afghanistan with central Asian countries, besides ramping up trade among three countries in the wake of Pakistan's transit access to New Delhi. "The route region should be connected on land, sea and air," Rouhani had said at the inauguration ceremony.
