AN OVERVIEW

The Product and its Uses

Phthalic Anhydride (PA) is a versatile industrial chemical that has a wide variety of uses for making consumer goods as well as industrial products. Some of the more visible and recognised consumer products made with PA include plastic cards, food containers, shoes and plastic furniture. On the industrial side, PA is the key component for manufacture of paints as a solvent for protective coating.

PA is a white crystalline compound and an intermediate of organic chemistry. PA is primarily used as a chemical intermediate for plasticiser for making Poly Vinyl Chloride, which is the base material for making a variety of consumer products ranging from packaging films, boxes, containers, bags, pipes, home and personal care products, medical and surgical equipments and various industrial products. PA is the second most important raw material in the manufacture of paints and coatings as it is an intermediate for Alkyd Resin, the vital component in paints. A more recent application of PA has been in the manufacture of Unsaturated Polyester Resins (UPR). UPR is used extensively as thermosets for making fiberglass reinforced plastics, have diverse applications in construction, marine and transportation.

Pioneers in PA

IG Petrochemicals Ltd has been a pioneer in the PA business. The Company is promoted by the H P Dhanuka Group having over four decades of experience in the PA industry.

The Company completed two decades of uninterrupted production last year. It was started as a 100 per cent Export Oriented Unit (EOU) with its production facility at Taloja, near Mumbai in Maharashtra. The Company commenced production in 1992-93. The plant was built with a technical collaboration with Lurgi GmbH, a renowned German engineering company having over a hundred years of experience in constructing plants to exacting international standards and systems.

INNOVATING INSIDE

Innovation does not always mean new products. Innovation means making changes in something that is established, especially by introducing new methods, processes or ideas.

In the PA business, competitive advantages wrest in Innovating Inside—through process re-engineering, improving operational efficiencies and optimising capacity utilisation. In the absence of any major product differentiation, COST becomes the key driver of growth and expansion.

At IG Petrochemicals, we are leveraging our consolidating strengths and building capacities to emerge as the LOWEST COST producers of PA in the world.

Consolidating Strengths

IG Petrochemicals has a clear and distinct strategic advantage over its competitors due to its many strengths. These are :

Location

The manufacturing plant of the Company is located at Talaja, 50 kms. from Mumbai-India's premier port and financial capital. The Talaja location of the plant gives the Company unmatched benefits in procurement as well as being in close proximity to end-user markets.

On the procurement side, the key raw material required for PA is Orthoxylene (OX), a basic petrochemical and a co-product of Paraxylene. The largest producer of OX in India is located at Jamnagar in the neighbouring state of Gujarat. The Company has a tie-up with this producer for almost 70 per cent of its OX requirement. The location of the plant at Talaja results in critical advantages to the Company in terms of cost of transportation of raw material, not to mention savings in time.

More than 70 per cent of all PA produced in the country is consumed by end-user in western India, which has one of the highest concentration of large, small and medium-sized units manufacturing a range of products that use PA as their key raw material. These units include plastic utensils, paints, tyres, PVC pipes, pharmaceuticals, flexi-glasses, toys, shoes, industrial textiles, backpacks, and many more. 90 per cent of all PA produced by the Company is sold locally. To the end-users, having a regular supply base at Taloja in close proximity to their units is an unbeatable advantage, as they get an assured supply of their raw materials with minimal cost of transport and shortest time lag.

Building Capacities

Building a new PA plant is a capital intensive proposition. Besides, being a commodity business, the returns are low. High investments and low returns create high entry barriers for new entrants. For the existing players, the equation is decided by VOLUMES. The higher the production capacity, the lower the cost of production, the higher the market domination.

Keeping this simple but critical strategic goal, we embarked upon expansion of our existing capacities of PA in 2011 with a brown-field expansion. The third plant was completed in September 2013, adding another 50,000 metric tonnes to our total capacity, increasing it to a staggering 1,66,110 metric tonnes per year.

With this additional capacity, we will be able to further leverage our already formidable economies of size, scale and scope in all aspects of production by integrating procurement, supply chain, operational costs as well as overheads.

We have consolidated our strengths, integrated our economies and combined our innovation to emerge as one of the LARGEST PRODUCERS OF PA at LOWEST COST.

An unbeatable advantage!

PROMISING OUTLOOK

There is an immense potential for growth in the PA market. Increase in demand from segments viz. plasticizers, resins and Unsaturated Polyester Resins (UPR), as well as increasing demand from alkyd resins, pigments and dyes are expected to drive the PA business to higher gains in terms of both volume and value.

According to the latest report available, the global consumption of PA is expected to grow at an annual rate of 3 per cent from 2013-2019 and reach USD 9.58 billion in 2019.

In comparison to world consumption of PA, India is still way behind in per capita terms. In terms of end-usage of PA, India is much below the global average :

Products made with PA are superior in many respects. Foremost, they are light-weight and therefore, have immense benefits in handling and transportation. Secondly, products made with PA are much more durable and hence, the replacement costs are almost negligible.

New Applications of PA

Driven by rapid changes in R&D and scientific advances, the end-use of PA is multiplying at a faster rate than ever before. New applications and new processes are opening up new usages for PA in infrastructure, transportation, interior and home decor, sporting equipments and many others.

In many industries Fiber-glass reinforced materials produced with Unsaturated Polyester Resins (UPR) are increasingly being used in a variety of applications due to unique advantage of light weight and strength. This will propel the growth of PA industry which is used in manufacture of UPR.

Copper Phthalocyanine (CPC)

CPC pigments are used in the manufacture of inks, photovoltaic cells, coatings and many plastic products and also certain sensitive applications such as colouring medical equipments.

Other Innovative Applications of PA

PA is increasingly being used for the manufacture of :

PLASTIC CURRENCY

LEISURE BOATS

SAIL OF WINDMILLS

PAPER-BOARDS

These developments augur well for the PA industry in general and IG Petrochemicals in particular. As the market-size keeps growing, IG Petrochemicals is poised to leverage its unique strengths and advantages, build up with over 20 years of expertise, experience and efforts. As one of the largest producer of PA in the world, offering multiple advantages of lowest costs, top-of-the-line quality, world-class plant and fastest delivery, IG Petrochemicals is in a leadership position in the PA industry.

FROM THE DESK OF THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholders,

2013-14 has been a milestone year for the Company as we completed 25 years. It has been a rewarding and satisfying journey that started with small but determined steps in 1988. Today, we are all very proud of our achievements which have made us one of the largest producer of PA in the world with one of the lowest costs in the industry.

The year 2013-14 was a rather flat and uneventful year for the global economy. All the major developed countries continued to face tough challenges as they struggled to meet even modest growth targets. Underperformance was the reigning theme across all regions and major economic groups. In the USA, the world's largest economy, growth slowed to about 1.6 per cent in 2013 compared to 2.8 per cent in 2012, largely due to fiscal tightening. In the EU, the shadow of debt-repayment crisis continued to haunt the region with 12 out of 17 countries still under Excessive Deficit Procedures, but the larger concern was the recessionary trend in manufacturing and unemployment.

In India, GDP growth improved marginally to 4.7 per cent for the year 2013-14. It was a particularly difficult year as crude oil prices remained high throughout the year.

This was compounded with alarming current account deficit that saw the Indian Rupee plunge to its lowest value of 68.85 against the US Dollar in the end of August 2013. Inflation continued to remain high which prevented the RBI from lowering interest rates, causing elevation in costs of raw materials as well as finance.

In face of this challenging operating environment, the Company has delivered excellent results.

Our Gross Revenue from Operations increased to ₹ 1,321.53 Crores from ₹ 1,067.18 Crores in the previous year, an improvement of almost 24 per cent.

Profit After Tax was ₹ 3.13 Crores against ₹ 3.07 Crores for the previous year.

We completed the brown-field expansion of our plant, PA-3 in the month of September 2013. It is significant to note here that this expansion was completed without any cost or time over-runs which is a commendable achievement in itself. PA-3 stabilised during the third quarter and was fully operational in the last quarter of the year. The effect of PA-3 was visible in our Q4 FY 14 results.

With the completion of PA-3, we have now emerged as one of the largest producers in the world. At 1,66,110 tonnes p.a., we have the largest capacity of PA in the country. What makes us dominate the PA space in India is the combination of largest capacity and lowest costs. By leveraging economies of scale and by constantly focussing on innovation, re-engineering, process improvements, we have an unbeatable and unmatched advantage in our costs, that give us a unique advantage.

Looking ahead, we are optimistic and confident. The key end-user segments of PA are estimated to continue growing at a steady pace. The global consumption of PA is expected to grow at an annual rate of 3 per cent from 2013 to 2019 as new applications of PA are being discovered every day, expanding its already huge array of uses. In India, the key users are all estimated to continue growing as the economy picks up and manufacturing growth revives. The horizon ahead looks bright, and at IG Petrochemicals, we are confident to continue our dominance of the PA space in the country with our consistent focus and drive.

On that positive note, I would like to thank you for your continued faith and trust in the Company. My thanks are also due to our customers, employees, bankers, investors and vendors, without whose support and contribution we could not achieve such remarkable success.

Yours sincerely,

MM Dhanuka
Chairman

FROM THE DESK OF THE MANAGING DIRECTOR

Dear Shareholders,

I am delighted to present the Silver Jubilee Annual Report of the Company. A memorable occasion like this is always a time to both rejoice and reflect, to re-commit and re-dedicate.

2013-14 was a memorable year for all of us at IG Petrochemicals. Besides completing 25 years, the year also saw us complete the third phase of our expansion in the month of September 2013. We had embarked on this expansion in 2011 and had aimed for a late 2013 commissioning. The last two years have been extremely challenging with high interest rates, slowdown in economy, sustained inflation and an overall increase in the cost of all raw materials. In spite of these issues, we managed to not only complete the project in time, but also within cost. I would like to congratulate everyone associated with this project – well done!

With the PA-3 expansion now operational at its full capacity, our total PA capacity has increased to 1,66,110 tonnes, making us one of the largest producer of PA in the country. Being largely a commodity business, cost of production plays a key role. And it is here that we stand apart well above competition.

This gives us a tremendous edge being the largest producer combined with lowest cost, which is not easy for our competitors to beat, as setting up a PA plant is a large, capital-intensive project with relatively low returns. The edge and advantage we have developed has been through our relentless efforts and unwavering focus on INNOVATION through process improvements, value re-engineering and many other such initiatives that come together to form a distinct advantage.

These innovation initiatives help us in transforming the PA space which is reflected in our uninterrupted growth over the years. In the year 2013-14, we remained on the growth trajectory with another set of outstanding performances.

We managed to improve our top-line with Net Revenues increasing from ₹ 970.33 Crores to ₹ 1204.29 Crores, a rise of over 24 per cent. PA is a commoditised business with typically very low margins. In spite of increasing cost of raw materials as well as a weak local currency that impacted our overall margins, we still did well to marginally improve our PAT.

Our total production increased from 1,06,662 MT to 1,28,076 MT for the year as our PA-3 expansion commenced during September 2013.

We are now looking to accelerate our growth and take it to the next level. One of the key focus is to explore downstream options for new avenues of growth.

The outlook for the future is exciting. Demand for plasticizers, which account for more than half of all

PA consumption, is forecast to remain strong. Unsaturated Polyester Resins (UPR) and Alkyd Resins – the other two large users of PA, are also estimated to have firm demand, especially driven by expected resurgence in construction and automobile sectors. On the domestic front, the Indian economy is expected to bounce back in 2014 with a much better performance on the back of higher manufacturing and industrial growth. Looking ahead, we are confident of yet another excellent performance in the coming year.

Thank you and here's to a positive and upbeat 2014-15.

Yours sincerely

Nikunj Dhanuka

Management Discussion and Analysis

Economic Overview

2013 was another year of challenges for all major economic regions across the world. Growth continued to remain subdued over most developed economies and was much less than the desired forecasts and estimates. According to the IMF's World Economic Outlook published in the month of April 2014, the world output grew at a moderate 3.0 per cent in 2013 compared to 3.2 per cent in the year 2012.

Growth of world gross product, 2007-2015^a

Source: UN/DESA.

^a Growth rate for 2013 is partially estimated. Estimates for 2013 and 2015 are forecast.

Among the developed economies, the USA, which is the largest economy in the world, suffered a setback compared to its robust growth in the year 2012. In the year 2013, GDP in USA grew by a mere 1.9 per cent compared to a much higher 2.8 per cent in the previous year. This slowdown in growth in the US economy was largely attributable to the political deadlock over policies and fiscal tightening.

In the Euro area, there were finally some positive signs as the region came out of protracted recession during 2013. However, the spectre of debt continues to loom large with 12 out of 17 countries still under Excessive Deficit Procedure.

In the key emerging economies of China and India, both countries had to face strong headwinds, although these were of a different nature in each of these countries. In China, growth continued to slow down due to falling export demand. However, on an overall basis, the Chinese economy still managed to grow at 7.7 per cent during 2013, which is similar to the 7.7 per cent growth it achieved in 2012. Though this growth seems low compared to the double digit growth the Chinese economy has been used to, in the larger context of all other major economies of growth in the world, is still very impressive.

Emerging and Developing Asia

In India, the year 2013 was a year that saw a modest recovery with the GDP growing at 4.5 per cent for the calendar year 2013. Growth picked up during the second half of the year in line with improved sentiments across major economies of the world. This helped improve GDP growth to 4.7 per cent for the fiscal year 2013-14, moderately better than the 4.5 per cent growth achieved in the previous fiscal year.

Key issues that weighed down growth in the Indian economy were nagging inflation and a weakening currency. Both these issues forced the central bank to keep monetary policy tight and interest rates high throughout the year, resulting in high input costs as well as high costs of finance all through the year. The Indian rupee plummeted to a low of 68.85 in the month of August 2013, driven by alarming current account deficit. Interestingly, in the month of April 2014, India overtook Japan as the world's third largest economy in terms of Purchasing Power Parity (PPP).

Industry Overview

Phthalic Anhydride (PA) is a downstream product of Orthoxylene (OX) a basic petrochemical. OX is clear and colourless at room temperatures and is used as a feedstock for the production of PA. Almost 97 per cent of all OX produced is used for making PA, and therefore, the demand for OX is strongly linked to the demand for PA. The total world production of OX is about 3.5 million tonnes of which almost 3.4 million tonnes is used for production of PA.

PA is a basic raw material that is used as an intermediate for the production of Plasticizers, Unsaturated Polyester Resins, Alkyd Resins and polyols. PA also has many other applications. In terms of usage, plasticizers account for nearly 55 per cent of all PA, followed by unsaturated polyester resins that account for almost 20 per cent of PA usage.

China is the largest producer of PA in the world accounting for 35 per cent global PA production. In 2013, China produced 1.95 million tonnes of OX based PA, closely followed by Western Europe at 834,000 metric tonnes.

The world demand for PA is estimated to be in the region of 3.4 million metric tonnes per year, and is expected to grow at 3 per cent annually.

PA Industry in India

India features low in terms of production and usage of PA, but is one of the fastest growing geographies in the PA space. The total domestic demand for PA is estimated to be 280,000 metric tonnes per year, which is largely concentrated around the western part of the country where most of the end-users of PA are located. It is estimated that almost 80 per cent of PA demand is attributed to western India which accounts for nearly 224,000 metric tonnes of consumption of PA in the country.

PA is used by a variety of end-users in India for an almost endless array of applications. These range from paints, PVC, construction, textile dyes, pigments and inks, leisure boats, pipes and transportation. All these end-user industries of PA are experiencing robust growth, driven by long-term and strong consumption story in the country.

Company Profile

IG Petrochemicals Limited is part of the HP Dhanuka Group of companies who are old and reputed players in the petrochemicals industry. The Company started in 1988 and has completed 25 years in 2013, which was celebrated as a silver jubilee year.

The Company has its plant located at Taloja, near Mumbai in Maharashtra. The year 2013 was a significant year for the Company as it completed its expansion of its plant in the month of September 2013. This expansion, named PA-3, began in 2011 and was completed in 2013 without any cost or time over-runs. After the completion of PA-3, IG Petrochemicals has emerged as one of the largest producer of PA in the world with a capacity of 1,66,110 metric tonnes per year.

Besides being the largest producer of PA in India, the Company also enjoys excellent and strong competitive advantages :

1. Location Advantage

The manufacturing plant of the Company is located at Taloja, about 50 kms. from the commercial capital of the country – Mumbai.

The location of the plant has several distinct advantages:

- a) Procurement
Almost 70 per cent of the raw material used for the production of PA is produced and procured by the Company from the largest petroleum refinery in the country, which is located in the neighbouring state of Gujarat. This close proximity gives the Company tremendous advantages in terms of costs of transportation as well as time.
- b) Reach to Customers
Western India accounts for nearly 80 per cent of all PA consumption in the country due to a high concentration of end-user industries in the region. As the plant of the Company is also located at Taloja near Mumbai, with excellent road and rail links, this provides a compelling advantage to its customers who do not have to incur additional transport costs, coupled with less delivery time.

2. Leveraging Economies

With the expansion of PA-3, the Company is able to fully leverage economies of size, scale and scope, which has resulted in the Company having unbeatable advantages in cost of PA.

3. Assured Quality of Products

The Company has one of the most stringent Quality Control norms and is committed to providing the best in class quality to its customers through both world-class products as well as top-class service.

The Company has adopted and implemented ISO 9000:2000 Quality Management Systems with a view to ensure strict compliance of process at its plant. The Company also has ISO 9001 certification as well as ISO 14001:2004 by Bureau Veritas. The plant of the Company has six-sigma system to ensure quality control and has also implemented ERP system across the organisation for better utilisation and planning of its resources.

The long-term Indian growth story is robust and intact. While there has been a minor slowdown in the economy due to macro factors, the larger picture is still promising and positive. The recent elections have resulted in a stable government at the centre which has revived confidence amongst both domestic as well as overseas investors. The new government is expected to push many reforms and policies, particularly in the infrastructure segment, and this is likely to have a positive impact in the economy. According to RBI estimates, the Indian GDP is expected to register a growth of between 5 and 6 per cent in the year 2014-15. Since PA is used by a wide range of industries and in a still wider array of applications ranging from industrial to consumer goods, the outlook for the PA industry remains firm and optimistic.

Risks and Concerns

The PA industry is closely linked to the fortunes of the petrochemicals industry, and therefore, is correlated to any risk that arises in and accrues from the petrochemicals industry. In case of any major fluctuations in global prices of crude oil, or in case of any disruptions in the supply of crude oil, there is bound to be an effect on the business of the Company. Besides this, the risks of economic slowdown, governmental policies, and exchange rate fluctuations are some of the more regular risks that are faced by every industry. All these macro and industry specific risks are regularly analysed and assessed by the Board of Directors who take appropriate and adequate corrective measures to ensure these risks are either entirely mitigated or their impact is minimised.

3. OPERATIONAL REVIEW

The expansion project of 50,000 MT. was completed during September 2013 thereby increasing the total production capacity to 1,66,110 MT. The Company delivered sustainable performance and achieved a production of 1,28,076 MT. for the year 2013-2014 as compared to 1,06,662 MT. during the previous year 2012-2013. The production was marginally lower due to closure of one of its Plant for change of Catalyst. The Net Sales Turnover from operations was ₹ 120,429.59 Lacs as against ₹ 97,033.91 Lacs for the previous year 2012 -2013, an increase of 24.11 % over the previous year. Net Profit during the year was ₹ 313.08 Lacs as against ₹ 307.89 Lacs during the previous year 2012-2013.

The operating margins were stable during most part of the year. However due to significant movement and volatility in value of Indian Rupee against US Dollar the Company suffered foreign exchange loss to the tune of ₹ 1,785.85 Lacs which affected the performance and profitability of the Company. The crude oil prices remained high during the first three quarters due to which the raw material prices were high. However the last quarter witnessed easing of raw material prices due to which the margins were better and are expected to remain so.

In view of the increased production due to expansion, the Company has increased the export sales which helps in hedging the volatility of the Rupee. The international markets are gradually picking up and the realizations are better compared to the previous years.

The Company continues to avail the Working Capital limits from various banks of around ₹ 288 crores (both fund based and non-fund based) during the year (Previous year ₹ 170 crores). The Company has also availed Rupee Term Loan of ₹ 65 crores (Previous year ₹ 41 crores) from Banks and External Commercial Borrowings (ECB) of EURO 11.329 million (Previous year EURO 10.140 million) as project finance to fund the PA-3 project which was completed during September 2013.

4. CONTRIBUTION TO THE EXCHEQUER

The Company has contributed ₹ 17475.26 Lacs to the Central and State Exchequer by way of Excise Duty, Sales Tax (including Surcharge), Income Tax, Wealth Tax, Professional Tax and Customs Duty.

5. OPPORTUNITIES, CONCERNS AND FUTURE OUTLOOK

The global economic slowdown that started a few years ago increased the complexity and volatility in the environment. Even though the Indian economy was able to sustain the growth momentum during that year, the stress on the economy had started to show during 2011. In subsequent years the growth rate for GDP continued to slide even lower. Various factors, both internal and external have contributed to this including the political environment, high fiscal deficit, consistently high inflation, and volatility in currency.

The environment continued to remain challenging during the year. Despite a good monsoon the manufacturing indices declined. Commodity prices continued peaking with food inflation hitting all time highs, resulting in high overall inflation, Rupee depreciated significantly before reviving a little, and the consumer sentiment remained subdued as well. These are the areas of serious concern but the general consensus remains optimistic about long term growth. The Government and the Reserve Bank managed to control the exchange rate fluctuation to some extent with appropriate monetary and fiscal policies during the latter part of the year. The economic potential of India remains promising. The current state of economic and social turmoil in the country indicates a desire for balanced growth. We hope that the transformation will lead to greater stability and future growth, thereby strengthening and unlocking India's economic potential.

The business operations of the Company are susceptible to risks which are inherent to any petrochemical business as well as to those inherent to international operations. Apart from these, there is always an exposure to general commercial risks which accrue to any commercial organization. The PA industry in particular continues to remain under severe pricing pressures, high raw material costs, volatility in demand and supply, government policies, exchange rate risk, increase in dumping of PA into the country and other technical and environmental risks. The Board of Directors do a periodic assessment of the risks through a means of properly defined framework resulting in minimization of risk involved.

The Company's expansion project of 50,000 MT. was completed during the year and commercial production commenced during September 2013. In view of the same the Company is the largest producer of PA in India and one of the largest in the world. Due to the integration of three units at one place by optimum utilization of existing facilities and the advantages of economies of scale, the Company would be one of the lowest cost producers of PA in the world. In view of the increased production and reduction in costs the performance of the Company will improve in the years to come.

The Company is exploring to add certain value added products to captively utilize the large production capacities to de-risk the existing business and fuel growth.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of

I G PETROCHEMICALS LIMITED

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of I G Petrochemicals Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2014, and the Statement of Profit and Loss and Cash Flow Statement for the year then ended and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Company's Management is responsible for the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair value of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Accounting Standards notified under the Companies Act, 1956 ("the Act") read with General Circular 15/2013 dated 13th September 2013 of the Ministry of Corporate Affairs, in respect of Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013. This responsibility includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatements.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Basis for qualified opinion

As a result, depreciation charge for the year is lower by ₹ 280.19 Lacs and accumulated depreciation lower charged as at 31st March, 2014 is ₹ 2,111.10 Lacs. The company has certain disputed foreign currency liability which has not been converted as on 31st March, 2014 for reason stated in Note No. 30 (b) due to this amount shown under exceptional item is lower by ₹ 659.07 Lacs for the year. - (a) in the case of the Balance Sheet, of the state of affairs of the Company as at 31st March, 2014;
- (b) in the case of the Statement of Profit and Loss, of the profit for the year ended on that date; and

Note 23 regarding certain disputed excise duty and custom duty matters amounting to ₹ 7,672.89 Lacs pending before the Honourable Supreme Court (Previous Year ₹ 7,672.89 Lacs pending before the Honourable Supreme Court and the Honourable High Court of Mumbai).

Significant Accounting Policies

Note A :

a. Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared to comply in all material respects with the Notified accounting standard by Companies Accounting Standards Rules, 2006 and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 1956. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention on an accrual basis except in case of assets for which provision for impairment is made and revaluation is carried out. The accounting policies have been consistently applied by the Company and except for the changes in accounting policy discussed more fully below, are consistent with those used in the previous year.

b. Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the results of operations during the reporting period end. Although these estimates are based upon management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results could differ from these estimates.

c. Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are stated at cost (or revalued amounts, as the case may be), less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses if any. Cost comprises the purchase price and any attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Borrowing costs relating to acquisition of fixed assets which takes substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use are also included to the extent they relate to the period till such assets are ready to be put to use.

An impairment loss is recognized wherever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of the asset's net selling price and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value at the weighted average cost of capital.

After impairment, depreciation is provided on the revised carrying amount of the asset over its remaining useful life.

f. Investments

Investments that are readily realizable and intended to be held for not more than a year are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long-term investments. Current investments are carried at lower of cost and fair value determined on an individual investment basis. Long-term investments are carried at cost. However, provision for diminution in value is made to recognize a decline other than temporary in the value of the investments.

g. Inventories

Inventories are valued as follows:

Raw materials, components, stores and spares	Lower of cost and net realizable value. However, materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost. Cost is determined on a weighted average basis

Stock in Process and finished goods	Lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost includes direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on normal operating capacity. Cost of finished goods includes excise duty.
-------------------------------------	--

Catalyst	Amortised on the basis of its estimated useful life
----------	---

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

h. Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured.

Sale of Goods

Interest

Revenue is recognized on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the rate applicable.

Dividends

Revenue is recognized when the shareholders' right to receive payment is established by the balance sheet date.

Foreign currency transactions are recorded in the reporting currency, by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

and non-monetary items which are carried at fair value or other similar valuation denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rates that existed when the values were determined.

iii. Exchange Differences

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items or on reporting company's monetary items at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded during the year or reported in previous financial statements, are recognized as income or as expenses in the year in which they arise except in case of long term liabilities, where they relate to acquisition of fixed assets, in which case they are adjusted to the carrying cost of such assets.

iv. Forward Exchange Contracts not intended for trading or speculation purposes

The premium or discount arising at the inception of forward exchange contracts is amortized as expense or income over the life of the contract. Exchange differences on such contracts are recognized in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which the exchange rates change. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of forward exchange contract is recognized as income or as expense for the year.

j. Retirement and other employee benefits

- i. Retirement benefits in the form of Provident Fund, in case of certain employees, are a defined contribution scheme and the contributions are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss of the year when the contributions to the respective funds are due. There are no other obligations other than the contribution payable to the respective trusts.
- ii. Gratuity liability and Provident Fund, in case of other employees not covered under defined contribution scheme, are defined benefit obligations. In situations where the company has unabsorbed depreciation or carry forward tax losses, all deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that they can be realized against future taxable profits.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date. The company writes-down the carrying amount of deferred tax asset to the extent that it is no longer reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be, that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which deferred tax asset can be realized. Any such write-down is reversed to the extent that it becomes reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be, that sufficient future taxable income will be available.

At each balance sheet date the Company re-assesses unrecognized deferred tax assets. It recognizes unrecognized deferred tax assets to the extent that it has become reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized.

Partly paid equity shares are treated as a fraction of an equity share to the extent that they were entitled to participate in dividends relative to a fully paid equity share during the reporting period.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

m. Provisions, Contingent Liabilities & Contingent Assets

A provision is recognized when an enterprise has a present obligation as a result of past event it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. NOTE - 30 : EXCEPTIONAL ITEM

- a. Due to significant movement and volatility in value of Indian rupee against US dollar the net foreign exchange loss has been considered by the Company as exceptional in nature.
- b. Foreign currency Liability of ₹ 3,516.89 Lacs shown under sundry Creditors (current Liabilities) has been disputed, a counter claim has been made and is not likely to be settled in a near future, hence this liability has not been converted by applying exchange rate at the close of the year as the liability may not reflect with reasonable accuracy the amount that is likely to be settled due to significant movement and volatility in value of Indian Rupee against Euro. Had the liability been converted as on the rates prevailing as at the close of the year (31st March, 2014) as recommended in the Accounting Standard issued by ICAI, the amount shown under exceptional item would have been higher by ₹ 659.07 Lacs and Trade Payable as appearing in "Current liabilities" would have been higher by the similar amount.

NOTE - 31: RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT

Research & Development Expenditure of ₹ 33.01 Lacs (Previous Year ₹ 30.51 Lacs) have been accounted for in the respective heads of the Statement of Profit and Loss.
