SC REFUSES TO STAY FLOOR TEST

Uddhav resigns as Maha chief minister

SHIV SENA CHIEF Uddhav Thackeray on Wednesday announced his decision to step down as the chief minister of Maharashtra. The announcement was made via Facebook Live shortly after the Supreme Court ordered the Thackeray-led Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) government to take a floor test to prove its majority in the Assembly on Thursday.

He also thanked his alliance partners Sharad Pawar and Sonia Gandhi for their support. "What I did (during my tenure) was for Marathi people and Hindutva. There were riots across the country, but Maharashtra was an exception. I would also like to thank my Muslim brethren for listening," he added.

The court order came after a lengthy hearing on a plea by Shiv Sena chief whip Sunil Prabhu challenging the Maharashtra governor's direction to CM Thackeray to face a trust vote. Earlier during the hearing, the top court had observed that the floor of the House was the only way to settle these issues of democracy. Senior advocate Neeraj Kishan Kaul, appearing for rebel Sena leader Eknath Shinde, had argued before the top court that a floor test can never be delayed and that it was the "only way to determine political accountability and avoid horse trading".

On the other hand, Sena counsel AM Singhvi had called the direction for a floor test on Thursday "unholy" and said that it revealed "undue haste".

Mumbai costliest Indian city for expats

SHUBHRA TANDON
Mumbai, June 29

MUMBAI IS INDIA'S most costly city in terms of both living expenses and accommodation costs for expatriates, which is pushing organisations to consider low-cost areas like Hyderabad, Chennai and Pune for setting up operations.

According to Mercer's 2022 Cost of Living survey, Mumbai at rank 127 is the most costly city in India, followed by New Delhi at 155, which also puts them in the top 40 most expensive cities in Asia.

Though Mumbai is a popular location for multinational corporations to establish operations, low-cost areas like Hyderabad, Chennai and Pune are also catching up due to the greater cost of living in Mumbai. Companies across the IT services, BFSI and pharmaceutical sectors are considering such low-cost cities to set up operations within India.

Among other cities, Chennai is ranked at 177 in terms of cost of living, Bengaluru at 178 and Hyderabad at 192, with Pune at 201 and Kolkata at 203 being the least expensive Indian cities in the ranking. The survey highlights elements that contribute to daily costs. Kolkata has the lowest cost of daily necessities such as milk, breads, vegetables, etc, while Mumbai and New Delhi have the highest costs. In terms of energy, phone costs, etc, the cost of home utilities is highest in Mumbai and lowest in Chennai and Hyderabad. Watching a movie in Mumbai is most expensive, whereas in Hyderabad it is the cheapest. As petrol costs have increased in all Indian cities, the price of getting a new car and other maintenance costs have gone up in all cities, according to Mercer.

Rahul Sharma, India mobility leader, Mercer, said, "Global supply chains for necessities have been disrupted as a result of Covid-19-related volatility, which has been exacerbated worse by the conflict between Ukraine and Russia. As a result of this uncertainty, organisations have been forced to reevaluate their global mobility initiatives."

The survey found that Hyderabad had the cheapest housing of all the places examined in India when evaluating the country's housing market. Among other Indian cities, Mumbai has some of the most costly rentals, followed by New Delhi and Bengaluru. The other Indian cities in the ranking — Chennai, Hyderabad, Pune and Kolkata — have accommodation costs that are over 50% lower than those of Mumbai.

Indian multinationals too are increasingly opening satellite offices in cities other than in the main metros in the post-pandemic times, though they call it more of a post-pandemic phenomenon, as people now prefer working closer or in their hometowns rather than shifting to bigger cities, and do not make a direct link to cost of living. Nachiket Deshpande, chief operating officer, L&T Infotech (LTI) told FE that the company's approach has shifted to taking the work to people rather than bringing people to work in the post-pandemic times. LTI has expanded operations recently to cities like Coimbatore, Hyderabad and Kolkata. "Our expansion across multiple cities is part of our global plan and we intend to open a few other locations soon," he said.

Another L&T company, L&T Technology Services (LTS), finds that the hybrid model of working ensures minimum disruption to its innovation process.
